Dedication

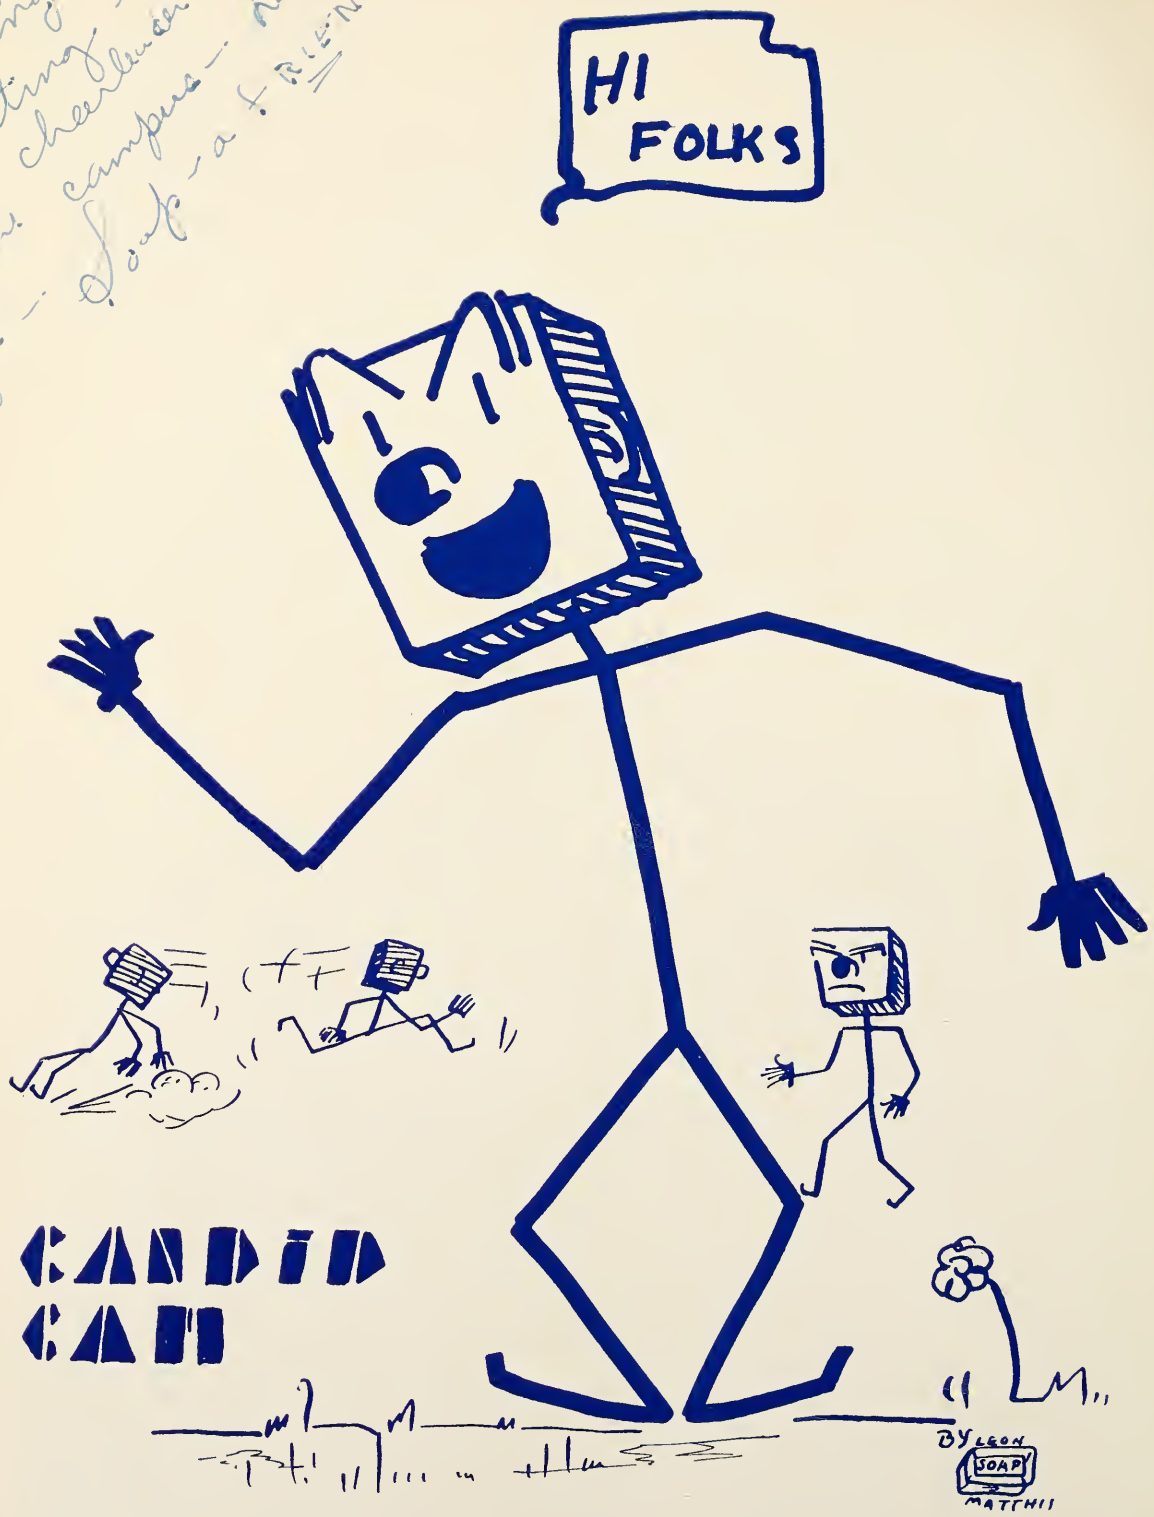
To ISABEL ELIZABETH STILES, whose keen interest is behind every new undertaking of TEXAS WESLEYAN COLLEGE, and whose work has been responsible for a large part of the growth of our ALMA MATER, the Senior Class of Texas Wesleyan College dedicates the 1938 Txweco.

A vital part of a growing college.

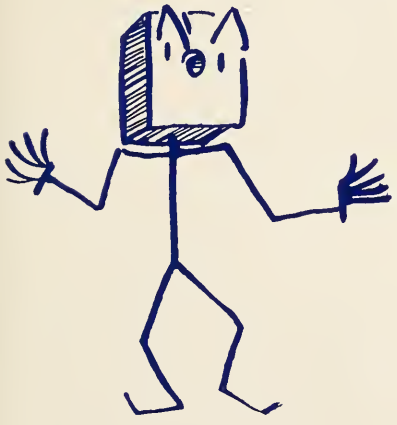
Classroom interest does not wander.

Often seen about the campus finding out what makes things tick.

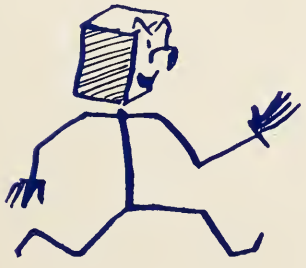
Wanda -
I have really enjoyed knowing you and associating with you - cheerleader - class - & on the campus - here's luck to ya' - Love - a friend -



The editorial staff of the 1938 Tiveco has made every effort to make this book a complete and comprehensive review of faculty, student academic, and extra curricular activity during the past school year. This has been done by the use of more snap-shots than have ever appeared in this book before, incolporated with the help of the entire student body, in responding to the requests made of them. We feel that a distinct improvement has been made in the beauty and popularity sections.



There is no definite theme in this years book, but we have introduced a character to you on the opposite page through which we felt that we could better get a glimpse of the many and varied activities that take place daily over a long period of time. The purpose of the book is to reveal college life, and to bring you a representative resume of your life here.



We have based our work upon this one thought "It is not what you eat but what you digest that makes you strong, not what you earn, but what you save that makes you rich and not what you learn but what you remember that makes you wise."

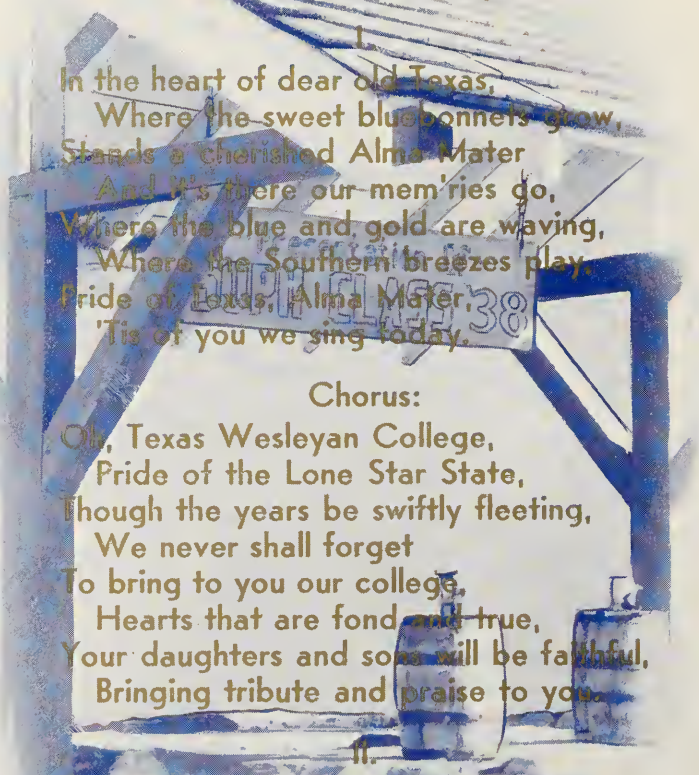
The personalities portrayed in this book are leading factors in making your college education what it is. We have tried to preserve these personalities so that your memories may be made clear as the years pass.

This book has cost much money, time, and effort on the part of many. To those who helped in the making of this 1938 Tiveco, the staff expresses its sincere appreciation and thanks.

THE Editor

Sincerely,
Thurwood George

Alma Mater



I.

In the heart of dear old Texas,
Where the sweet bluebonnets grow,
Stands a cherished Alma Mater
And it's there our mem'ries go,
Where the blue and gold are waving,
Where the Southern breezes play,
Pride of Texas, Alma Mater,
'Tis of you we sing today.

Chorus:

Oh, Texas Wesleyan College,
Pride of the Lone Star State,
Though the years be swiftly fleeting,
We never shall forget
To bring to you our college,
Hearts that are fond and true,
Your daughters and sons will be faithful,
Bringing tribute and praise to you.

II.

Round your stately walls of knowledge
Linger mem'ries fond and dear
Of your counsel, truth, and wisdom
And of friends from far and near;
And we make this sacred promise
That we'll ever bring to you
Tribute, praise, and love, and homage,
Alma Mater, Hail! to you!

FINE ARTS BUILDING

MULKEY HALL

Ad Building at the end of a snow-covered lane . . . Looking at Dan Waggoner through snow-covered glasses . . . Even the fish are cold . . . The old oaken bucket . . . A bird's-eye view of Ann Waggoner . . . The campus under a blanket of snow . . . The South steps . . . Mulkey and the gymnasium . . . Pride of the Lone Star State . . . Home of the Boazites . . . Mulkey from afar . . . A gift of the Senior class . . . Poly Methodist Church and Dan Hall on parade . . . Time to eat . . . Campus walk . . . On the way to chapel . . . The Stars and Stripes Forever.

BOAZ HALL

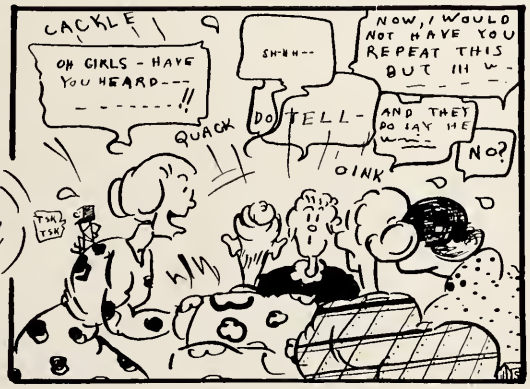
DAN WAGGONER HALL

Cam worked overtime in Dan Waggoner. The editors of this edition are in no wise responsible for the things he saw.

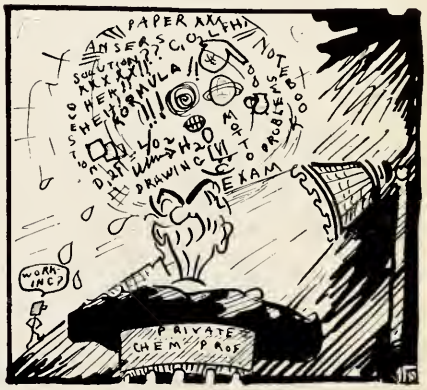
The librarian goes to town on a list of over-due books.

The boys in Dan spend a quiet evening at home.

Three-wheeling for Shakespeare.



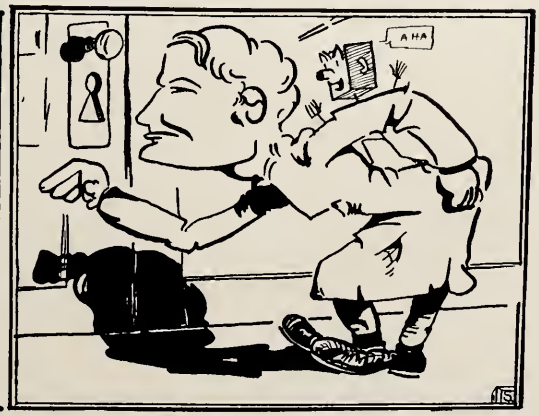
The girls discuss world events in classrooms, but at home . . .



An enlargement of a Chemistry professor's mind (not that it doesn't need it.)

After this next meal, I'll start dieting.

"I'll be as good to you as you let me be and as mean to you as you make me be."



No Soap!

HANG OUTS

Every school has places where students like to congregate and chat. Small groups of lads and lasses can usually be found in groups about the campus. There are many such places on the Texas Wesleyan campus, but there are a few that are more frequently used than others. Many students are known for the places that they "Hang Out."

The stone benches are usually inhabited by couples in the warmer part of the year, and many college romances have had their beginning at this very place. At times groups of students may be found here sprawling on and about these benches.

The P. C. C. room is the general gathering place for all the Town Girls. Perhaps more of their time is spent in this room than any other part of the school. This is their place of refuge when it is cold or when an extra bit of powder is needed to cover that shiney nose.

The Ram Trading Post is the favorite hang-out for the student body as a whole. It is here that every student at some time or another must go to use the telephone, buy books, get something to eat, or to cash a check. MR. WREN is a very likeable and friendly man, and he makes it a pleasure for all students to come to the Ram Trading Post for a place to hang out.

The Band Room is a new part of our College life. This is our first year to have a band room, but it has become quite popular with many students as a place to go to practice or to watch practice.

LAW SONE, President

A. B., A. M., West Texas Teachers College; further graudate work, Leland Stanford University. Superintendent of Schools, Panhandle, Texas, 1927-1932. Texas Wesleyan College, 1932-.

My congratulations to you, Seniors of 1938, on having attained the goal set four years ago for the completion of your degree. You have worked and played together, helping direct each year's group of new students as they registered. You have worked studiously, played enthusiastically, and directed and encouraged the fellow students willingly and helpfully. You have set a standard that will be a challenge for other classes, and your training and experience in college groups have fitted you for positions of trust and leadership in the communities in which you will live.

I hope your years here have been happy ones, and that the contacts you have made and the inspirations you have received in Texas Wesleyan College, will continue to be sources of pleasure and profit to you throughout the coming years.

WALTER R. GLICK, Dean of the College

Diploma, A. B., A. M., Southwest Texas State Teachers College; further graduate work, University of Texas, Superintendent of Public Schools 1913-29. Dean and President of Texas Wesleyan College of Austin, 1929-1936. Texas Wesleyan College, 1936-.

To the Members of the Senior Class and the Student Body of Texas Wesleyan College:

I want to emphasize that the mantle of civilization is a garment woven by busy hands, patterned by educated minds, and should be adjusted to the shoulders of the world by those having hearts brimming with the milk of human kindness. When you go forth to fight the battles of life, adjust yourselves according to these precepts, and remember those of us in the second line trenches are sharing with you your triumphs and your defeats. Carry On!

WALTER R. GLICK.

Dear Wanda:

I have enjoyed your personality and Home Ec luncheons. Kept both on a high plane and your life road will be secure.

Walter R. Glick

SNAPSHOTS OF TEACHERS

Mrs. Lisenby takes a shortcut across the campus, even if it is against the rules. . . . Dr. Simmons on one of his sprints from the classroom to his office. . . . Mr. Thor has found a place to fiddle with his whiskers, rather cold, don't you think? . . . Mr. Bowman is keenly interested in the affairs of the campus. . . . Mr. Matthis seems to be a family man as he poses with his young Timothy. . . . Look out! Miss Klander, you will get overbalanced. . . . Mr. Crouch, Mrs. Crouch, and baby Crouch. . . . Mr. Hughes is quite sure that he can handle the situation. . . . Watch Out! Professor, there might be a car in the street. . . . When artists get together at Texas Wesleyan you just naturally get Mrs. Lindsey and Mrs. Graner.

Many good wishes to dear Maude, and happy memories to you & College days and College friends.

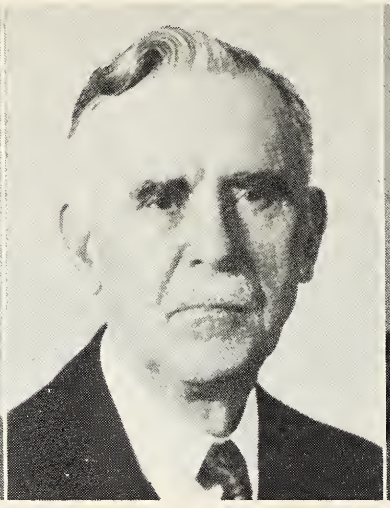
ADVISORY BOARD

MRS. AUGIE MAE HOWELL



MR. WILLIAM STUART

MISS JUANITA COWAN

The Advisory Board has been established to act as the head of the disciplinary committees of the school. Its purpose is to see that proper concern is given to important matters of misconduct and to see that all students are given a square deal.

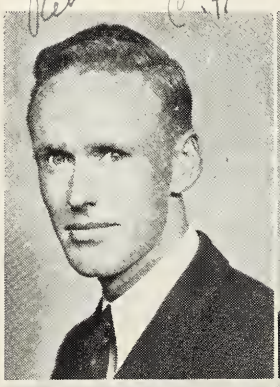
EXECUTIVE BOARD OF STUDENT BODY

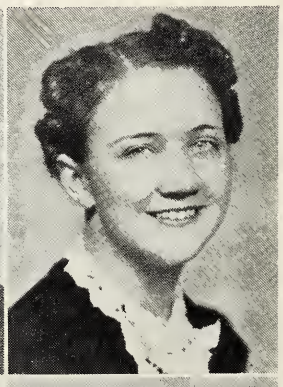
C. A. Greenwaldt
Student Body President

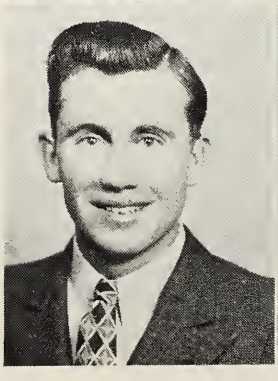
Margret Jobe
Student Body Vice-President

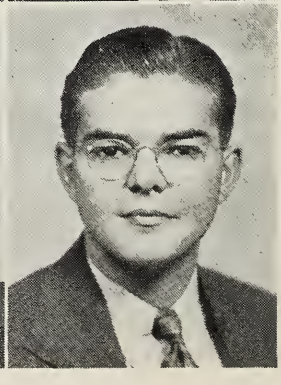
Milburn Pigg
Student Body Secretary

Bill Fisher
Student Body Treasurer









The Executive Board of the Student Body is composed of these members who are elected by the student body. It is indeed an honor to be a member of this board. Its function is to head all student body affairs and to act as the head of the student government.

DORMITORY COUNCIL

Oramae Dickey | Gladys Catterton | Ima Archer | Helen Conner | Bobbie Sue Moore | Mildred Ely | Katharyn Lilly | Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon

The Dormitory Council is a student organization that has been in existence on the Texas Wesleyan Campus since 1924. Its purpose is to regulate the conduct of students and to enforce such regulations of the institution as do not fall within the jurisdiction of the Advisor of Women or the Discipline Committee.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is composed of students who are members of the executive board of the student body and the presidents of the respective classes. Its purpose is to perform the same duties for the Student Body that the Dormitory Council performs for the dormitories. The Council sees that the discipline of the school is just and impartial to all concerned.

The Senior Class of 1938 is the first graduating class of Texas Wesleyan College. They have in a measure established a precedent of loyalty, cooperation, sportsmanship, and enthusiasm that is worthy of the consideration and respect of the future graduating classes.

The Class is indeed proud of its privilege and position as the road-blazers of a new era in the history of its Alma Mater.

During their Sophomore year this class presented the school with the Well which is located between the Administration Building and the Ram Trading Post.

As a memorial to the school the auditorium of the Administration Building has been redecorated with new curtains, both for the windows and the stage, and a general reconditioning of the entire interior has been completed.

The social function which climaxed their school career was the banquet which was given in their honor by the Junior Class. The Mayfete which is annually sponsored by the Senior Class is the most beautiful and elaborate undertaking of the school.

Dear Hanna,
Gal, you have always been a friendly little number, and you won me as a friend from the very beginning.
I'm gonna miss you next year. Don't you wish we could all just stay one big happy family forever.
You must not let your graduating keep you from keeping in touch with us. You have been an asset to D.W.C. Keep up the good work and you'll achieve great things.
Love,
Lea

The Junior Class is a wide-awake organization from its bat-swinging prexy, who incidentally will be head man until the class is graduated, down to the athletically-minded girls who have captured the hockey, basket ball, volley ball and baseball titles consistently, and will continue through the senior year! We have enjoyed a "Sack-Cycle-Sunrise Breakfast," attended by a large number of enthusiasts. Our Junior Day celebration, the delightful lawn party given by our most faithful sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, and of course, our biggest affair of the year—the Junior-Senior Banquet, which was well attended and most highly appreciated by the hearty eaters of the upper-classmen, as any one of them will gladly testify. Senior Class —here we come!

THE sophomore class has been one of the most active in the history of Texas Wesleyan College. They have been somewhat outnumbered by the Fish this year, but they have never missed an opportunity to deal them misery when they found few enough Fish in one place.

John Harvey has led this class very efficiently, and has made them a respected group rather than one which has suddenly found itself in the complex stage between the hateful Fish and the ignoring Upperclassmen.

Their social activities included a hayride and a trip to the lake.

THIS year's freshman class was one of the livliest that has ever hit the Texas Wesleyan campus. The fireworks started at the very first of the year, when the Fish gave the Sophs all kinds of trouble. Outnumbered, the Sophs have been more or less quiet this year, unless some Freshman was caught alone.

February 17 brought the production of "Slopscovitch," which was the pride and joy of the class. Two orchestras and fifty people were included in the cast.

On Freshman Day Madge Miller held the high position of "Freshman Queen." Every Freshman was proud of her that day. Fish Day was topped off with a banquet, which was made possible by the proceeds of "Slopscovitch."

Next year they'll be Sophomores, but what a Freshman class they were.

TEXAS WESLEYAN IS PROUD OF ITS SECOND SEMESTER STUDENTS, AND THE TXWECO STAFF is sorry that it was unable to get more of their pictures. May we take this opportunity to say that you are welcome to this school and its many activities.

For you I wish the best luck possible, and I am sure a swell girl like you will have it. Leola Butterworth

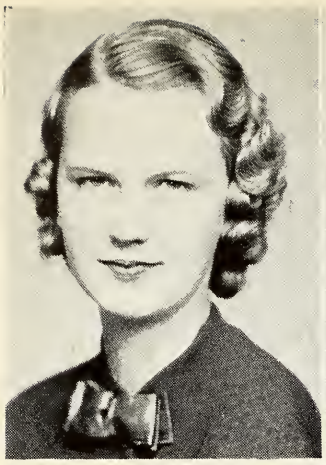
SELECTED BY
as the best
The Texas



MAY ROSENLUND—May is a fine arts student majoring in violin. Among desirable traits recommending her for this page were her musical talent, dependability, and imagination.

LOUISE HUBBARD—Louise is a major in physical education. She is active in all forms of sports. For the last two years she has been selected for the varsity field hockey and basketball teams. Among other things she is a baseball coach.

WALLACE SHAMBURGER — A Junior and very active in his class. Wallace is majoring in Science. In recommending him, industry and reliability were deciding factors.

CATHARINE WAKEFIELD — This active student was named the best all-round girl athlete last year, and has been at least as active, if not even more, this year. She is an assistant in physical education.

DOROTHY HAGARD—Dorothy is majoring in piano. She takes part in all musical activities including the Glee Club. She also belongs to the Thespian Club.

MARGARET MITCHELL — She didn't write "Gone With the Wind" but her good looks have made her well known. Marguerite is majoring in Home Economics, with cosmetology and sewing as her main interests.

Scholarship

DOROTHY BOULWARE—Major in History and an "A" student in that subject. One of her hobbies is collecting pictures.

DOUGLAS WOODWARD—Doug is a Chemistry major and the star of Prof. Ewing's classes. He is characterized by meticulous thoroughness in details, a trait essential in chemists.

ELOISE RODDY—Eloise is a student assistant in Speech, in which subject she is majoring. Her hobbies are acting in amateur theatricals and being seen with Thurmond George.

To introduce our snapshot section we have chosen these pictures showing two typical and important events in our campus activities. The STUDENT REVIVAL, an annual event, was conducted this year by the REVEREND MR. WELLS. With him on the stage are shown DEAN GLICK, PRESIDENT SONE, the REVEREND MR. HUNTER, Pastor of POLY-TECHNIC METH-ODIST CHURCH and ORAMAE DICKEY, Pianist for the Revival.

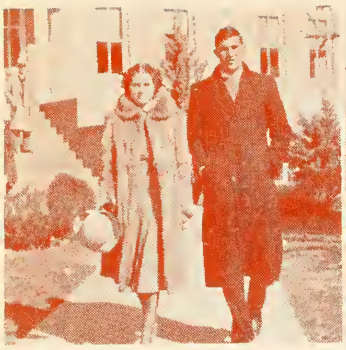
These pictures were made of the DEKA FORMAL which was held at the TEXAS HOTEL. This affair is characteristic of the social events given by many organizations on the campus.

Mrs. Lisenby's Sophomore English Class. At some time or another every student of Texas Wesleyan College has met three times a week in this room and explored the realms of English Literature.

Beautiful girls and handsome boys watch graceful dancers at the SWEETHEART REVUE. This was perhaps the nicest affair of the year. The entire student body attended, and were entertained by the Stage Band and the Revue of Sweethearts with Joe Wills as Master of Ceremonies.

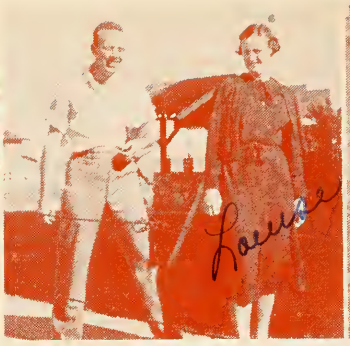
Chapel is a vital part of our college routine. This picture was taken during the Student Revival which is a tradition on this campus.

Down to the finals, Tommie Bailey and June Cochran. The winner, June Cochran, was chosen by applause. She was named Sweetheart of the Revue and presented with a beautiful bouquet of calla lilies and white carnations.



She's Queen of May and one of our Senior beauties. Randy, your choice has been a royal one.

A deep bass voice and a lyric soprano seem to harmonize—you'd be surprised how perfectly.



They're smiles are big and broad enough. Is it really that much fun?

It seems to be the real thing; at least, it has lasted a long time and seems destined to last much longer.

Just give them time, please. Someday they're going to call that ten to one bet.

It's nice to see these two together. We wish them luck during the many years to come.

"Gone but not forgotten," smiles Blanche. It's nice of Uncle Sam to take care of that flow of letters.

Our campus songbird and one of our football heroes make a nice contrast in feminine charm and masculine brawn.

Our Campus is basking in the light of a beautiful moon. There is no sound. Even nature has paused to wonder at the beauties of itself. Perhaps it is an Autumn night, and the chill of cool air is softly creeping up through the yellowing grass. It may be in the dead of Winter, and the trees are shrouded in the pure white of snow. Or it might be that the air is heavy with the fragrant breath of Spring. It is the time when the worries and work of the day are forgotten, when romance and fun are given full sway. Shadowy figures are dimly outlined on the Ad Building steps; the Jungle seems to shield the beginnings of many a future reality; vague forms stroll up and down the walks, arm in arm. At some time or another they all visit the well—to get a drink—Howard and June, Thurmond and Eloise, Hortense and Foster, Dub and Helen, Merle and James, Bobbie and Lemmie, Dick and Russell Marie, Lewis and Helen. Oh, why, on a night like this, do you have to keep an eye on the look-out for Mr. House?

But night does not claim all the honors. Many a romance has had its beginning in the Trading Post, across a library table, on the rail in front of the bulletin board, in chapel, or even in one of those many classrooms. Jobie and Johnny seem to have a good time most anywhere, anytime. It's not hard to find Mary Lee and Bill about most anywhere during the daylight hours. Dwight and Helen especially like to sit in that certain car, while Randy spends a great deal of his time waiting near the Fine Arts Building for Mozelle.

Whether it's night or day, romance or just a date, it's all fun!

The stone benches and a sunshiny day . . . there's lots to be said, isn't there?

Another example of beauty and brawn, and another example of the ways of some college romances.

S-U-C-H . . . A-F-F-E-C-T-I-O-N . . . Is this the usual greeting between a Fish and a Soph?

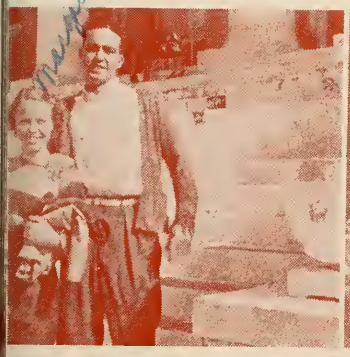
This is a changing world we live in. Things change O-F-T-E-N on our campus, but it must have been fun while it lasted.

A swell, steady, likeable pair often seen about our campus.

It's nice to be around a couple like this. They're lots of fun, and all in all, mighty swell somebodies.

There is a lot of difference in big and little things, but in this case, they seem to fit exactly.

It began with dates and fun. It's just fun now, but it's all grand to look back on.



Little Fish are caught on big lines, but the little fish seem to like it.

They have a long, long road ahead of them, but maybe they'll make it some day. Who knows?

He's a football hero a-n-d he really gets along with this beautiful girl.

One of the campus favorites chooses, and here is the results.

Fish swim in schools. This pair prefer a private school for two.

They're sweethearts forever. May their bowl of life overflow with happiness and success.

It's lasting and lasting, and these steps are a mighty nice place to keep it going.

Even presidents change their minds, but they're still the best of friends.

A Fisher-man in the right surroundings with prospects for a big catch.

When two as suited as these two meet, something's bound to happen; furthermore it lasts a long time.

She was the sweetheart of our Revue, is admired by every boy in school, but she's the Queen of Howard's heart.

At least there's one thing a Senior knows how to pick a beauty.

These girls and Candid Cam had a great time on that particular day . . . Let us get your picture, Billy. And so we did . . . Very well, young lady, we'll take your picture anyway . . . Madge and Hortense, those two pretty, popular Fish . . . Pausing for a brief rest . . . A nice picture, John . . . Marching to work . . . Our chapel speaker adjusting the back of her costume . . . Tiger Hosea playing rough with Willie . . . Mr. Ewing on his way to that Chemistry class . . . Mildred and Cathryn welcome us to Roaring Springs . . . Dig hard, boys . . . Why hide them? . . . Cam must have tickled these girls . . . Catharine and Jerry borrow Sandra's tricycle.

Merle and Jack chat of this and that . . . Two of our popular exes home for a short visit . . . One of our handsome campus shieks, Erwin . . . There's always a big rush to meals . . . Autiss members eating sandwiches after the show . . . Wanda swings down the sidewalk . . . Looks like a country boy come to town . . . An attractive study, Miss Hudson . . . Can't you smile for us, boys? . . . Blanche—going places . . . Willie seems very interested in the little black box that is taking his picture . . . Cathryn attempts privacy for her conversation . . . Howard and Steve on their way to Ann . . . Tashua Shum shows us her charming smile as she pauses on her way to the Trading Post . . . One of our Yell Leaders with that personality . . . On the way to Chapel . . . Hazen and Mildred caught on the way to classes . . . George visits the campus again . . . George Keeler, our man about town . . . On the way to Poly for lunch . . . Joe, the iron man! . . . John A. and Mr. Williamson discuss their many problems . . . Frances pauses for a moment on her way to Mulkey.

Hutch and Gillie . . . Ollie's thirsty . . . Willie waits with the rest of the gang for lunch . . . They wouldn't even stop for Cam . . . Evelyn turns on that personality . . . Charley, looking for Mildred . . . Miss Doak pauses after lunch for a chat with Merle and Kathryn . . . Olin Odom, headin' for class.

Jerry, Newton, and Milburn are in a hurry to get to lunch . . . An ex-student who has just spoken in chapel about China . . . Milton joins the last minute rush . . . Mary Kate and Mercedes coming from Mulkey . . . Two comely lasses on their way to classes . . . Claris and Ruth give Cam only a glance . . . Campus kids . . . Mrs. Graner and her assistants.

Three attractive co-eds pause for a moment to smile for Candid Cam. . . . This is one way to get to town. I believe they made it with these smiles. . . . We enjoyed having them on our Campus. . . . Another view of the Trading Post. . . . Mildred looks very lady-like, but Cathryn is on the verge of shinning up that tree. . . . That's him—Pappy. . . . Classes are over. . . . On a football trip. Some Fun! . . . The well and two comely lasses. . . . Mildred poses with Willie. . . . One of those informal get-togethers. . . . Loading up.

Johnny—in fun—we wonder about Mary Anna and Jobie . . . An impromptu picture of Beverly, Jane, Sibyllene and Law, Jr. . . . Another Phys. Ed class is over . . . Is it very hard work? At least, we're getting our roads fixed.

Leon assumes that studious look . . . Evelyn shows Cam her sweet smile while Jack merely watches proceedings . . . A bird's-eye view of two of our campus loungers . . . The T. W. girls show how they got those T. W. boys . . . Margaret smiles, Weldon looks on, while John furnishes a background . . . Mary Anna and Jean . . . A familiar campus scene.

Dick against a background of snow . . . This is a typical scene when it snows . . . A couple in front of Dan; also our beautiful campus trees and Ad. Building . . . Hurry, Gwin, those girls will be gone before you get that snowball made.

Margaret seems to think she's had enough snow down her back . . . Claris Glick leaving Dan . . . Beverly is building a snow man . . . One of Mr. Turner's many jobs.

Doris and one of the Collup twins . . . They're dodging snowballs . . . It must be love in the snow with a snowball thrown in . . . Jane, you're entirely too little a girl to eat such a lot of snow!

The photographer gets another slant at the snow . . . It was snowing hard when this picture was taken . . . The time in this girl's life when she was literally "snowed under" . . . They're resting a minute and smiling for Candid Cam.

It seems they're plotting for a battle royal . . . Woe to the next victim . . . This is one time in your life you are absolutely helpless, girls . . . So this is the bunch who built the snow man which lasted for days after the snow was gone . . . Dick, Margaret, Steve, Doris, Bernice smile for Candid Cam and Dan puts his best tongue forward.

Jean and Lottie . . . Mr. Matthis on the way to Math. Class . . . John Hensell as seen about the campus . . . Mutt McCawley, one of the second semester students . . . Douglas Woodard as seen by Cam . . . John Wilhelm pauses for a picture . . . Catharine Wakefield shows her personality smile . . . Mildred Ely stops for a moment in her busy day . . . J. L. Marshall and his swell smile . . . Mr. Bowman caught in a characteristic gester . . . "I'm bubbling over!"—We believe it Mr. Matthis . . . Bill Stokes gets a new slant on this laughing business . . . Second Semester students . . . The Band warming up before they shove off . . . John, we used to catch Perch that had eyes like that.

"Blank Verse"
Friend John T.

Candid Cam catches two campus strollers. Cathryn is seen with another one of her many admirers . . . James and Joe Elder on the way to class . . . Gwin, caught in a serious mood . . . These Mulkey girls were campused because they refused to tell who struck the match that lit that fire-cracker. That bunch really stuck together . . . Nice smiles . . . Lounging on the steps . . . Iris and Lonnie pause long enough to show us their million dollar smiles . . . Two comely co-eds often seen about . . . Miss Styles and Dorothy talk over the problems of the Senior Class . . . Sweetheart Parade all on a Sunday afternoon . . . Vernon shows how the job was done . . . Over the net . . . Afternoon practice on the campus.

Presenting "PICTURE STORIES OF CAMPUS LIFE." On these two pages are shown the pictures turned in for the five dollar prize contest. The winning pictures were turned in by Dick Morris. They are shown below protraying a typical day in the lives of Texas Wesleyan boys who live and work on the campus. Running a close second are the pictures turned in by Fern Finkner showing how a typical dormitory girl spends these nights studying. The remarks turned in with these pictures are printed below.

12:00 P. M. to 6:00 A. M.

7:00 A. M. Pulling out of the hay.

After breakfast— brush up.

Off to classes.

Afternoon at work.

7:00 P. M. to 11:30 P. M.

And so to bed.

Well, I guess I'd better get to studying.

Social visits first.

Wonder if he's thinking of me too.

Oh, this wool!

Oh Boy, I was just starving.

One more nightly task done.

At last.

Z-Z-Z-Z-Z-

These two stories were turned in by Weldon Kellet and the T. W. Girls. The top pictures show in a very effective manner the steps of the Big Apple. The bottom pictures portray how the T. W. Girls support the T. W. Boys. Each of the picture stories shows an entirely different part of our campus life.

TXWECO

For the past several months the 1938 TXWECO has been in the making. It has required much time on the part of the Editor, Associate Editor, Business Manager and the members of the staff. We hope that we have brought to you the best annual that has ever been published at Texas Wesleyan. That has been our aim. We have tried to introduce several new features and to use as many colors and types of paper that we could afford. We have added a Who's Who section as an effort to present the leading students on the campus. There is no definite theme to this year's annual but we have tried to carry the character of Candad Cam throughout the book as he visited different portions of campus activity each day.

The next feature is the Beauty and Queens section. It is larger than it has ever been before and we have used duo-tone and pebbled paper to bring out the effects. We hope you like it.

The Faculty section is more interesting than in former years. It has been our aim to increase the interest in this section by bringing to you some of the professors in their offices, classrooms and on the campus.

Much time and attention has been given to the snapshot and feature sections. We have tried to make a representative section and to cover all of the activities that have occurred on the campus during the past school year.

The Athletic section contains more pictures than ever before, and is greatly improved by the addition of action pictures in each sport.

The 1938 TXWECO is larger and more expensive than any previous edition. It contains approximately two hundred pages, an increase of ten pages over the '37 book. Three hundred and seventy-four students had their picture made for the annual, which is quite a few more than ever before.

We hope that you like the cover and the end-sheets. The cover is padded and will stand much wear as well as keep its color.

STAFF

The members of the staff worked long and hard in order to get the book out on time. Thurmond George, Editor, is largely responsible for the early delivery date because of his constant efforts to get material completed and the many hours that he put in, arranging proofs and copy. Bill Fisher, Associate Editor, designed the cover, and put in many hours on page arrangements and proof reading. Leon Matthis is responsible for all of the drawings and cartoons in the book. The class editors, Mary Lee McMahon, Senior; Iris Caraway, Junior; Bernice Henderson, Sophomore; and A. B. Hatcher, Freshman, should be commended for their fine work and their efforts in getting students to have their pictures made. Milton McCleskey, Joe Strawn, and Nona Woodard are responsible for the greatly improved athletic section. Eloise Roddy wrote the copy on all the snapshots and helped on several other sections. Marshall Cole and Cecil McClung did most of the typing, and Wilson Canafax and George Keever were the humor editors.

The 1938 TXWECO wishes to express its appreciation to Mrs. V. Robinson, who sold the advertising for this annual, and to Mr. J. P. Crow of Staffords, who contributed many ideas and assisted us in a great many ways; also to Orgain's Studios and Marvin D. Evans Company for their fine cooperation, and to everyone else who contributed in the making of this yearbook. We hope you like it.

The Rambler, a student publication which has as its maxim, "See All the Truth, Get All the Truth, Tell All the Truth," has been sensibly consistent in style and content, yet at the same time, progressive in thought and make-up during the year '37-'38.

Its great improvement, perhaps, was manifest on page two. From a more or less hodge-podge page of features, comments, and even short news stories, it has become a page of fact and truthful comment in a style pleasing to the eye, and consistent with the requirements for a successful editorial page. It is now a page of modernistic make-up—no columnar lines, and all headlines flush to the left.

The editorial page now offers in its new golden-shears column a pin of distinction financed by a Rambler income to be worn by a worthy student selected each week. A special council, headed by the student president, selects the wearer.

Social functions were not taboo with Rambler staffmen. A special Christmas party with gifts for the poor, a weenie roast given by the sponsor, and another event held in May were on the '37-'38 program. In May, at the third function, special awards of merit were presented to credulous workmen on the staff.

Beginning in February, the "second-semester beginners" contributed fully fifty per cent of copy material for each issue. This work comprises a lab for young journalists in Texas Wesleyan.

A most worthy step was taken when the Texas Wesleyan Rambler contested in the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association tournament. At least nine divisions were represented by Rambler staff members.

The Rambler has lived true to its motto: "See All the Truth, Get All the Truth, Tell All the Truth."

This organization is very old on this campus. It was organized during the POLYTECHNIC COLLEGE days, survived TEXAS WOMAN'S COLLEGE, and is still an effective influence on this campus. This organization was known as the Glee Club until this year when the name was changed to CARL VENTH CLUB, commemorating the death of CARL VENTH, who, for many years, was Dean of Music of this College.

The purpose of this organization is to give credit in ensemble work, to aid public school music teachers, and to give personal enjoyment to those who like to sing. The members of this club study the science of diction, some tone production, and modification.

The band is one of the finest organizations on the campus. We are all proud of the fine progress that has been made under the capable direction of MR. SANDIFER.

During the year this group has been outfitted with new uniforms of the finest quality obtainable. We feel that we have a band comparable to that of much larger schools.

The band has added much to the school spirit and will be a wonderful factor in the growth of the school. Increased attendance is anticipated next year in response to the encouragement of the Administration in the giving of scholarships to the band members.

The stage band of TEXAS WESLEYAN is one of the most unique factors, from the standpoint of entertainment, on the campus. This group of entertainers has been the object of pride to every student in school this year. This is the first year for this band, but it has been a wonderful asset to programs just the same.

MR. SANDIFER is to be commended highly for his fine work in organizing this fine group of musicians in so short a time. We are expecting much from the STAGE BAND next year.

The Thespian Club is a very old organization and is responsible for many evenings' enjoyment on the campus.

Scenes like this taken from "Cynthia's Strategy" are typical of all of them from the standpoint of stage technique and entertainment.

Here JOHN HARKRIDER is seen making love to LOWELL RAINWATER while CLAIRE DOAK and BOBBIE HORNBURG watch the procedure with twinkling eyes.

Behind The Scenes. . . . Below are pictures of intense action taken from two one-act plays presented in the Fall Production. It looks like the thief, Joe Strawn, will make his get-away unsuspected by Vernon Richards and Frances Marshall.

Below . . . Margaret Fisher, George Keever, Margaret Nell Smith, Wayne Reynolds, and Lonnie Norris are engaged in a battle of wits endeavoring to untangle a plot to take their home.

The biggest production of the year which this club sponsored was "Death Takes a Holiday," which was led by Thurmond George as the Shadow, and Thelma Lee Bell as Grazia, with a supporting cast of thirteen.

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. is fourfold: 1. To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ, 2. To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church, 3. To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, and 4. To influence them to devote themselves in the united efforts with all Christians to make the will of Christ effective in human society.

The social functions sponsored by the organization this year were the New-Student—Old-Student Wedding and Garden Party, Big-Sister—Little-Sister Picnic and Kid Party, Halloween Carnival, and Welfare work at Christmas.

In September, 1890, the first literary society for young women of Polytechnic College was organized. It was to be a means of encouraging self-expression of its members, developing a leadership, teching parliamentary rules, studying world wide subjects, and most of all it was to be a socializing influence. It was named for Mrs. Susan M. Key, wife of Bishop Key, one of the founders of the institution.

Since its organization the colors have been white and gold, its flower, the Daisy, and its motto, "Victory Crowns Labor." Every year since 1929, during the third week of school, Rush Week is held to entertain all new students. On Saturdays just before Christmas a luncheon is held at one of the hotels. A party is given for the Koros, and every year during the spring at some time, a week-end is spent at the Lake.

The Korosophian Literary Society

Was organized in 1895, reorganized in 1902, and federated in 1910. This organization has a long and interesting history, and its aim has been to develop mentality, sociality, and spirituality among its members.

Rush Week was introduced by "KORO" in 1927.

In 1932 a new tradition was begun—that of presenting a KORO pin to the girl voted by the society as the most loyal to the organization.

This year's history is still in the making. In the Fall the room was redecorated and new draperies were bought for the windows. Rush Week opened the activities for the year. The banquet at the Woman's Club climaxed a happy year for the "KOROS," who continue to grow in "WISDOM, BEAUTY, and GRACE."

The Press Club of Texas Wesleyan was reorganized in 1936, with John A. Harrington serving as its first president and Mrs. Gladys S. Bowman as sponsor. The Club has a five-fold purpose—that is:

1. To enlarge the scope of student publications.
2. To carry on studies and discussion of problems of publications.
3. To delve into various phases of journalism and creative writing.
4. To provide for a well-defined system of promotion in the publication staffs.
5. To make possible a closer fellowship between the two staffs and the student body.

The Club's emblem is the typewriter. To become a member of the Club one must be either a staff member of the Txweco or the Rambler.

This year the activities of the Club have been varied and interesting. We find that the Club has had as its guest speakers such notables as Miss Rachel Fair Brown, A. H. Montford, and Hal Thompson, along with many others. The social activities include Spring and Fall chapel programs and an annual banquet honoring the members and their guests.

Plans are being made by the Press Club to entertain the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association on the campus during the year of 1939.

Pictures show the Press Club members and their guest at the annual Washington banquet on February 22. With President and Mrs. Sone, and Mr. Mathis as honor guests—all those present lend an interesting ear to speaker Hal Thompson of Station WFAA, Dallas.

Dearest Wanda, your friendship has meant a lot to me, and we've had a lot of fun in H.E. haven't we. May I wish for you all the good things that you deserve. I hope you will never for get your pal of the class of '38 and remember I like you lots. Love, Louise

This is the town girl's club, founded for the purpose of fostering school spirit and co-operation among the day students. All "town girls" are members of the club automatically. Among the many activities of this club were the picnic for town boys and the "faculty dinner." This event finds each member inviting a male member of the faculty to be her "date" for the banquet. As there are many more girls than faculty men, the competition is keen, and the faculty men live for one short while in the greatest popularity.

This club was organized in 1935 for the lettermen in the three major sports of the college—football, basketball, and track. An eligible candidate for the club is voted on and if approved for membership is initiated into the organization.

The club endeavors to hold at least two outstanding socials each year for its members and the outstanding social of the year is the annual banquet which is held at the close of the football season. The members and their dates as well as the ex-lettermen are privileged to attend this banquet.

Radio Club

The Radio Club, consisting of those who have taken part in Texas Wesleyan's weekly program over Station KTAT, has been one of the livest and most worthwhile organizations on the campus. Much of the college's best talent had a part in the afternoon programs. Lowell Rainwater, master of ceremonies, organized the programs and occasionally doubled as crooner. Joe B. Wills of "Slopscovitch" fame was an excellent newscaster, with a refined and pleasing voice equal or superior to many commercial broadcasters.

The programs opened with the Alma Mater played by Mary Frances Harkrider, staff pianist. Dub King, student publicity director, gave sport slants and interviewed stars of the games. The girl's trio was a frequent guest, singing popular song hits of the day as well as songs of a more serious type.

Joe Strawn, assistant newscaster, and Joe Wills provided many amusing moments in chapel with announcements concerning the radio program and the freshman class, one taking the radio "plug" one chapel and the other the next. These chapel speeches created much interest in the programs and showed originality and wit.

Gus came to T. W. C. in the summer of '37 from Trinidad, Colo., where he was athletic coach in Trinidad High School. There his teams won a long string of championships. An enviable record indeed. Arriving at T .W. C. Coach Miller went to work immediately making plans for the coming football and basketball seasons.

Gus introduced the Warner system mixed with a little of the "try anything once" style of play, and, in spite of the fact that he brought in a new style of football, had a very successful season.

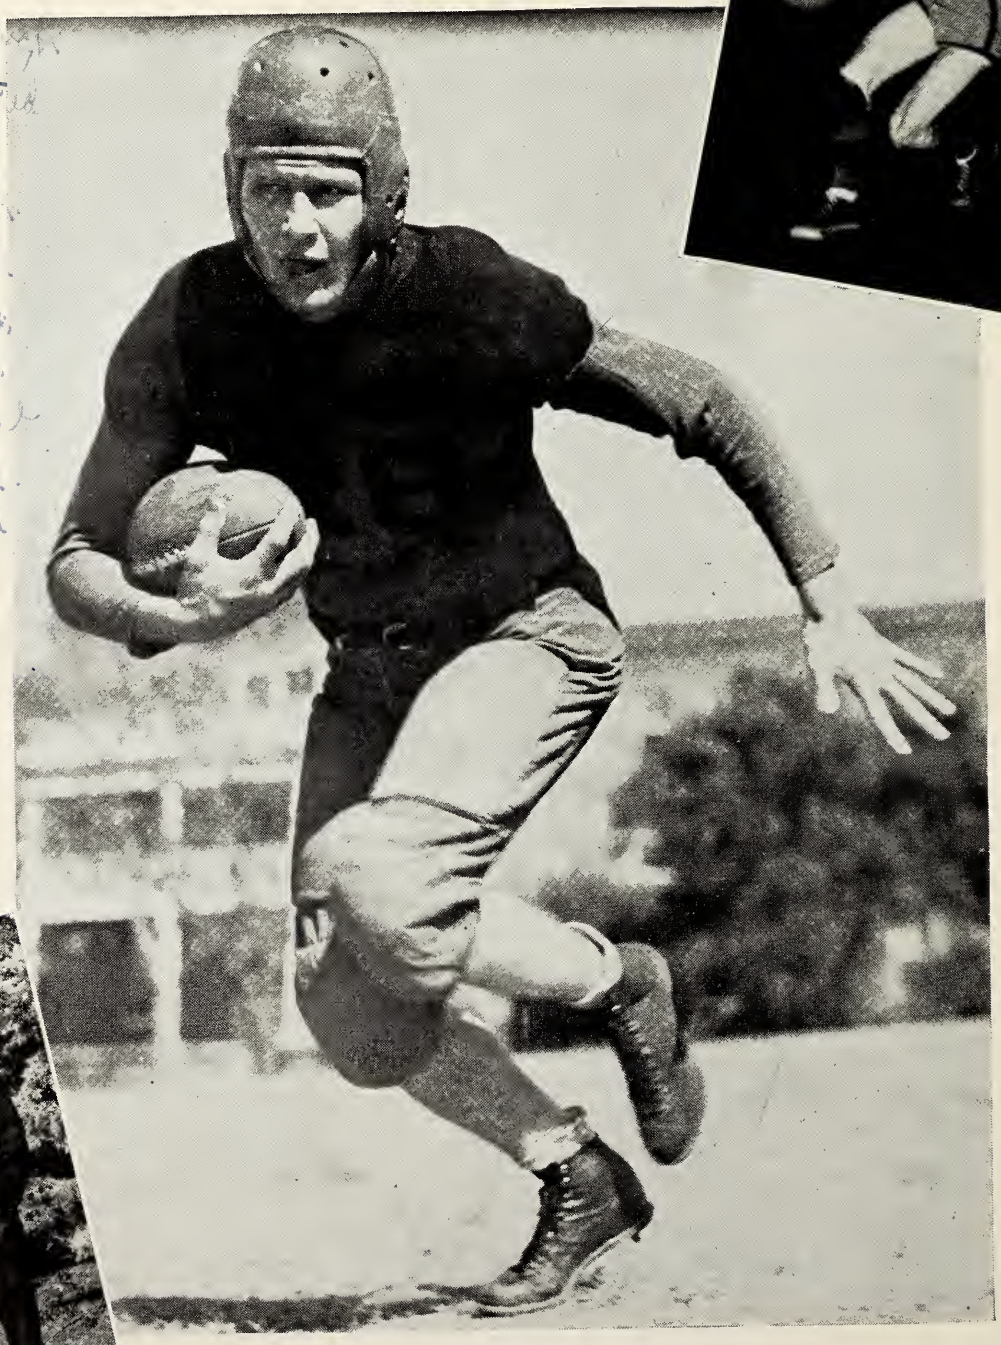
FERMON "RED" RUTLEDGE

Elected best all around Athlete by the T. W. association. All Texas Conference quarteback and a basketeer of no mean ability. Captain elect, football '38, and an all 'round swell fellow.



Together in uniform for the last time, graduating seniors, Mote, Splawn, McCarty, McCleskey, Randolph, and Rhome seem to be discussing the idea of turning in their moleskins for good.

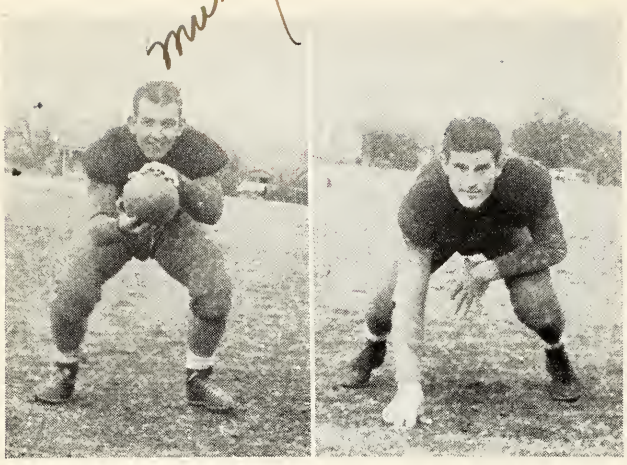
These eleven Rams, with capable asistance from the bench, beat the W. T. S. T. C. Buffs 13-6. West Texas sports writers, after seeing this game, proclaimed the Rams to be the best team to play there in years.

Backs: Splawn, Rutledge, Gracey, McCarty.

Line: Davis, Rhome, ends; J. Bray, Livingstone, tackles; Randolph, McCleskey, guards; L. Bray, center.

Managers, Andy Minshew and H. A. Crowley.

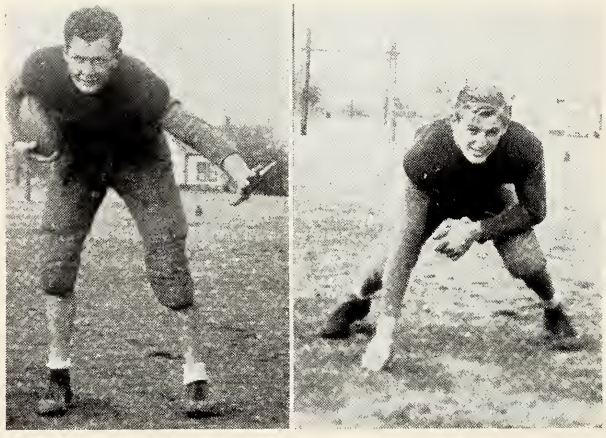
Wanda:
I hope you do O.K. in your teaching next year.
Here hoping you teach at Handley.
H a.
Crowley



Monroe McCarty, halfback, Senior.
An excellent back and passer second to none.

Dick Livingstone, tackle, Junior.
With Dick it is hustle from the word Go.

Fermon Rutledge, quarterback, Senior with one more year of eligibility. Red won a berth on the Star-Telegram All Texas Conference team.



John Hosea, end, Freshman. Football the hard way is the Tiger's dish.

Rams win from the Coyotes, 6-0.

Homer Craig, tackle, Freshman.
A player who can handle himself well, and take care of his part of the line.

Robert Randolph, guard, Senior.
Randy likes the game tough, and plays it that way pulling no punches.

Foster Miller, tackle, Freshman.
One that will be right up at the top in three years.

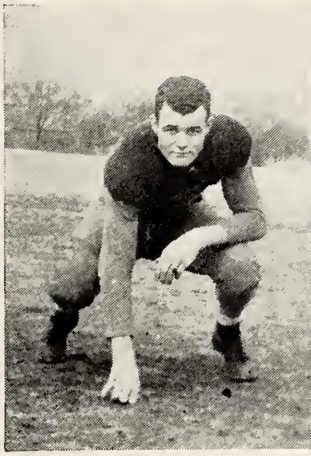
Wanda it really has been a pleasure knowing you and having you for a friend. With that winning personality I know that you will really go places. Best of luck. Hall

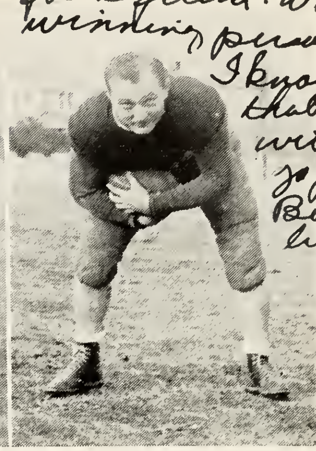
John Bray, tackle, Junior.

A very versatile athlete who can play one position as well as another. Because of his all 'round ability as a football player he was All Texas Conference tackle.

Hall Splawn, halfback, Senior.

Because of his speed, Puddin' was a handy man to have around when an end run was necessary.





Howard Gracey, fullback, Junior.

When a man can pass, punt, and run as well as this'n, there will always be a place for him on a team.

Sandy, It has been a pleasure for me to know and attend school with. Here's to a bigger and better year in '39. Lots of luck Gracey Truett Cooper, end, Freshman.

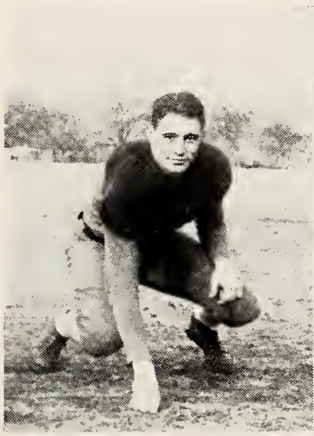
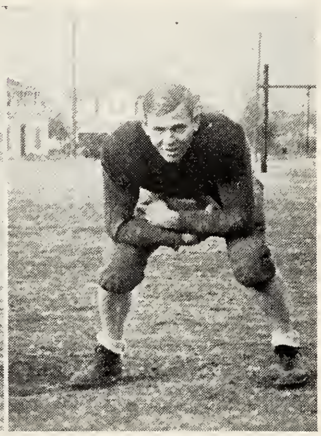
This young man from Jacksboro was an outstanding first year man. Don't be surprised if he is shifted to the backfield next year.





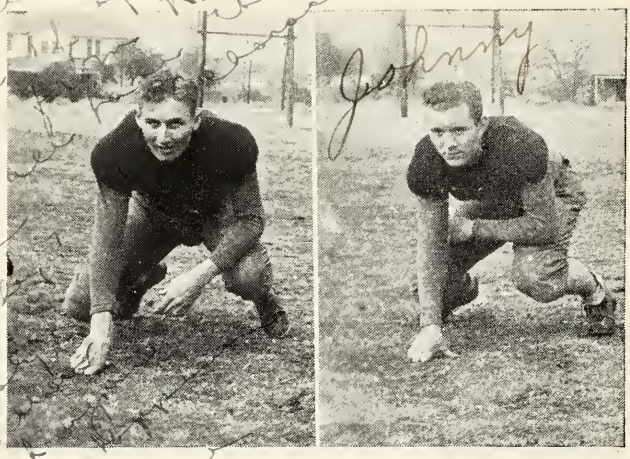
RAMS 13, O. B. U. 7

Milton McCleskey, guard, Senior. Been known to play good football.

Ben Fowler, center, Sophomore. Scrappy little center who has improved greatly over his first year.

Dan Rhome, end, Senior. A great defensive player and one who can more than hold his own on the offense.

It's really been [illegible] being in school with you. Don't forget a [illegible] — Rhome

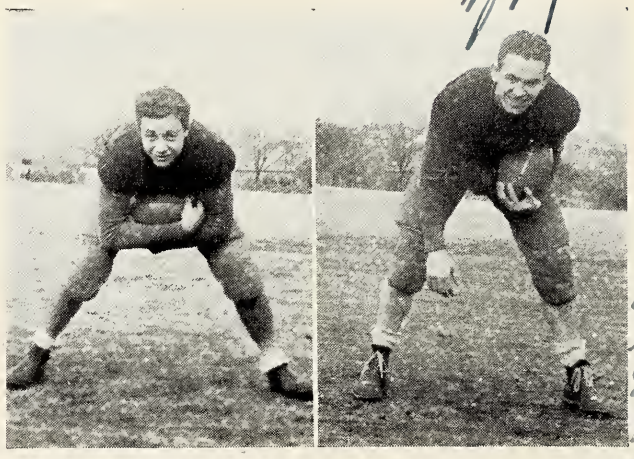


Terrell Davis, end, Junior.

One of the best! A man that played great football this past season. He will be playing regularly this next year.

John Harvey, guard, Sophomore.

A little man who made up for his lack of weight with a "never say die" spirit.



Moran Mote, fullback, Senior.

T. W. C.'s original hardluck player, but nevertheless one who gave a very good account of himself on the football field.

Steve Scarafiotti, halfback, Freshman.

A very shy and bashful sort of fellow in the ordinary walks of life, but a very versatile and capable opponent on the gridiron.

Rutledge being pulled down by two Bearcat players after having received McCarty's pass in the flat zone, one of which was usually good for a gain of ten or eleven yards.

Weldon Kellett, quarterback, Freshman.

A hard hitting little fellow who is capable of taking care of himself under any condition.

Wayne Hillery, halfback, Freshman.

Watch this man for the next three years. He's going places!

Dear Wanda
It has been a pleasure to know you & walk to class with you.
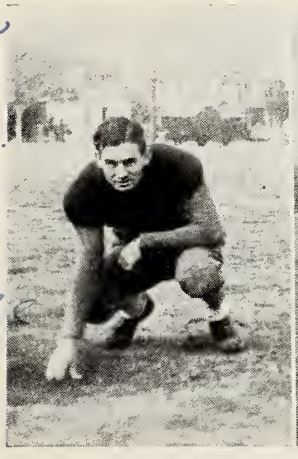
Remember me
as a friend
Georg



George Graham, guard, Sophomore.

A little man with big ways who likes to play football the hard way.

Sam Greene, quarterback, Junior.

Another little man but hard to stop. An adept signal caller who can pass and run with equal ability.

Wanda,
Hope you'll always remember
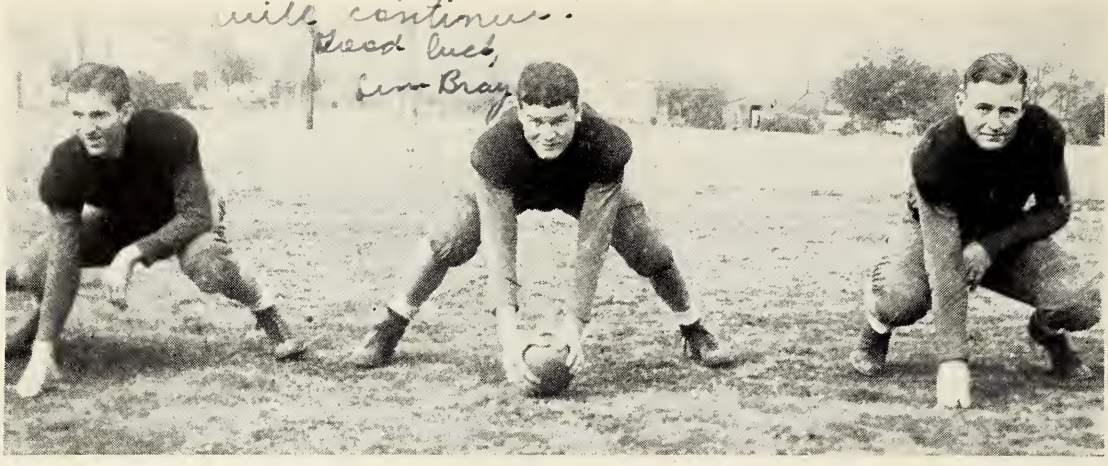
Sam Green

Hall Splawn on one of his long jaunts around end which paved the way for victory over Sam Houston. Score—Rams 9, Bearcats 0.

Wands,
you are a swell kid
and I hope our friendship
will continue.
Good luck,
Lem Bray



Roy Segars, guard, Junior.

A scrappy little fellow who likes the going when it's rough, and one who can take care of more than his share of the opposition.

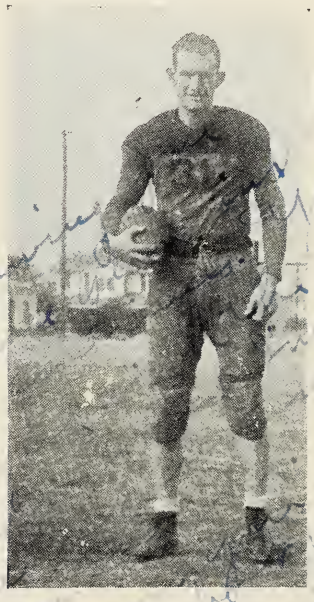
Lem Bray, center, Sophomore.

the nickname "SLEEPY" did not fit LEM when he was in action on the gridiron. He was very muchly awake and in the middle of the action.

James Jolly, guard, Freshman.

An easy sort of fellow who can be plenty tought when the occasion calls for it.

The Rams lost to Howard Payne as a result of a series of bad breaks, one of which took the ball away from them on the one-foot line, preventing a touchdown and possible victory over this tough Howard Payne bunch which went on to win the conference championship with no defeats. Final score, the Yellow Jackets 7, Rams 0.



Alvin Reese, halfback, Junior.

A fast man who was able to pick good yardage on occasions with his ability to get places in a hurry.

The Rams lined up for a kick-off against Daniel Baker. JOHN BRAY is preparing to kick. Score—Rame 20, Hill Billies 7.

Practice on a cold afternoon at Sycamore Park. RANDOLPH, LIVINGSTONE, GRACEY, and McCARTY seem to be deeply interested in something that is about to take place.

WILLIE and GUS seem to have had words as to how their picture should be taken and seem on the verge of falling out, each going his own way to let the photographer settle the dispute by taking the picture as he sees fit.

The Band, the new uniforms, and nifty new bus.

A bleacher study during the RAM-BILLY game at Brownwood. (Wonder what those Rams are doing now?)

Daniel Baker back trying a play over the RAM line. No gain!

BRIGHAM YOUNG and L. J. WILKINS insisted on posing for this snapshot taken at the bottom of the front steps "looking up."

A bunch of the boys waiting out front to leave for Shawnee.

The lull before the storm.

HOSEA does a little "quick change" act.

The Rams prepare to leave Amarillo after having beaten W. T. S. T. C.

See for yourself. MR. CROUCH made the trip to Sam Houston.

An ardent Ram backer and a regular fellow.

Pre-game pile-up.

Between halves at the game with Daniel Baker.

Spring Training

A bit of fast action during scrimmage session.

Beginning of the play. Note the ball in mid-air.

Roughing it up during a scrimmage practice.

FOSTER MILLER charging toward the line while GUS looks on in the background.

STEVE taking the ball around end with HOMER CRAIG leading the way.

A neat bit of blocking.

WAYNE HILLERY carries the ball through the left side of the line.

A pile-up around center.

STEVE takes the ball through the line, WILKINS running interference.

A play being run through the center of the line. Note the big hole that has been opened for the ball carrier.

BRIGHAM takes care of his man in clearing the way for the runner.

BASKET BALL

RAM BASKETBALL SQUAD

The players, left to right—Back Row, COACH MILLER, HILLERY, WALSH, THORNTON, BARNES, and WARD. Front Row, RUTLEDGE, PIGG, EDWARDS, C. McCLUNG, B. McCLUNG.

The Rams had an excellent season this year in basketball, losing one out of twenty-two games, defeating such teams as O. C. U., Sam Houston, and the T. C. U. Horned Frogs, ending the season with a perfect record in the conference standing.

Captain Milburn Pigg, forward, and one of the smoothest players in the game. Also MILBURN was high point man for the season.

Johnny Edwards, guard, an excellent ball handler, and a valuable man on any man's basketball team. JOHNNY is a very polished player.

(Red) Rutledge, guard, a good offensive man and a demon on the defense.

The Rams won from Austin College by the lop-sided score of 70 to 33.

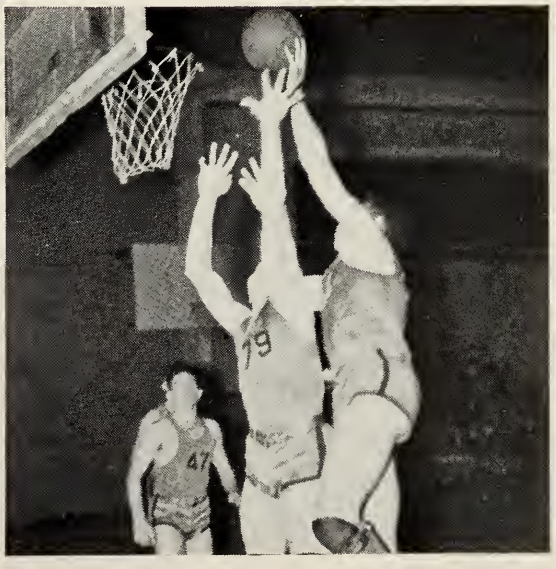
Cullen Walsh, guard, a steady player who continued his good work after being shifted to center position in the latter part of the season.

Hazen Ward and Wilson of Howard Payne caught in a bit of intense action during the latter part of the game at the Recreational Building which the Rams won 53 to 28.

JACK THORNTON, center. He proved a valuable asset to the team because of his ability as a ball-handler and speed on the floor.

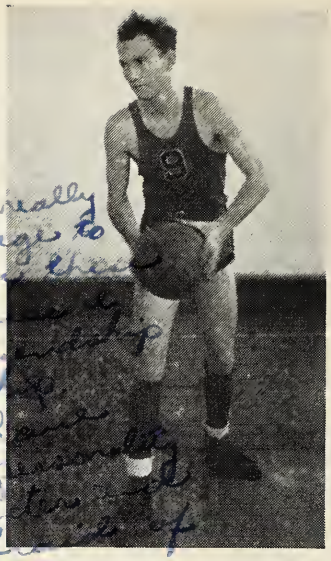
The Rams win two games from the powerful Oklahoma City University team. Scores: 43-33, 47-41.

CECIL McCLUNG, guard. A Freshman from Poly High who was outstanding in his first year in College competition.



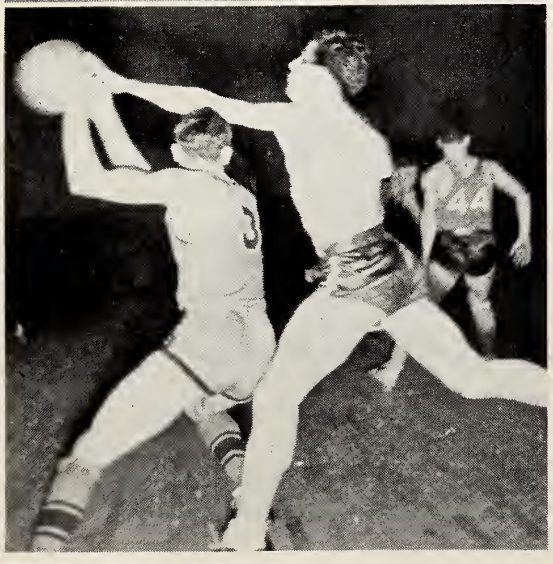
RED WALSH goes high into the air over a Jacket player to score two points in the game with Howard Payne.

MILBURN PIGG goes into the air for his favorite shot in the game with the Hillbillies.

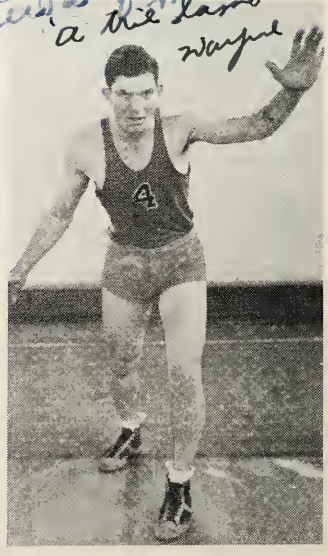


RAYMOND BARNES, forward. A very promising Freshman from Poly High.

WARD leads off down the floor and is preparing to attempt a shot at the basket.



PIGG takes the ball from an opponent in the game with Oklahoma City University.



WAYNE HILLERY, guard. A player who hustles through two halves of fast basketball.

BOB McCLUNG, forward. A transfer from John Tarleton and a player of no mean ability.

Passing such as this and excellent playing in all departments were strong factors in the successful season of the Ram Basketball team.

HAZEN WARD, forward. An outstanding first-year man who liked to play the game fast and never gave an opponent a chance to slow down.

Scores

Rams, 41 — T. C. U., 34.
Rams, 45 — Stephen F. Austin, 38.
Rams, 51 — St. Edwards, 37.
Rams, 43 — Billies, 17.
Rams, 68 — Cleburne Independents, 25.

Standing: Kellet, Hosea, Reese
Kneeling: Cooper, McCauley, Strawn

Tracksteers off to a fast start

TRACK

This is the first year the Ram tracksteers have competed in the annual Texas Conference Track and Field Meet to be held at Brownwood May 13-14.

Alvin Reese is the most promising man on the squad and may win several points in the dashes in the Conference Meet.

John Hosea has shown ability in the discus throw during practice and may be listed as one of the outstanding squadmen.

Mutt McCauley, mid-semester transfer, brings a record of an all around track man and may gain points in the jumps and sprints.

Weldon Kellet's will to "do or die" may gain him a good place in the middle distance runs.

Truett Cooper is a threat in the 440 yard dash and is sure to assist the relay team.

Joe Strawn is a candidate in the hurdles.

All of the team will be back next season and with a year's experience are expected to make a strong bid for the Conference Title.

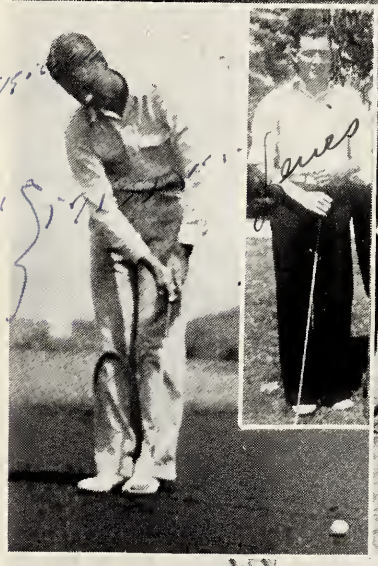
GOLF

Some of the boys on No. 17 green during a practice round at Glen Garden.



WARREN SMITH—Was off his usual form at the first of the season but after getting started he really played fine golf at his No. 2 position.

LEWIS JORDAN—Turned in several good rounds during the season at both 3 and 4 positions.

Lewis Jordan, Warren Smith, Bob Kincaid, John E. Smith, Bob McClung, Vernon Willoughby, Bill Fisher

BILL FISHER—Was on and off all season playing at No. 4 position most of the time.

CAPT. VERNON WILLOUGHBY—Played his usually fine game at his No. 1 position, firing several sub-par rounds at his opponents.

BOB KINCAID—A newcomer this year, also turned in several fine rounds during the season.

The Ram golfers, led by Capt. Vernon Willoughby, who defeated conference champion, Ab Pruitt, started off the 1938 golf season by defeating Austin College at Sherman, 16 to 2. Then were defeated by the fine N. T. A. C. team at Colonial Hills. Other matches during the season in preparation for the Conference Tournament at Brownwood on May 13 and 14, included return matches with Austin College and N. T. A. C., a 36-hole match with Texas Tech on April 22, and matches with T. C. U., Southwestern, Howard Payne and Trinity.

HUMBLE

As a Texas Institution, we extend to the class of 1938 our best wishes for success as they graduate into the larger world of business and professional life. May you, like your predecessor classes at Tex. Wesleyan College, contribute to the greater glory of Texas, the chief wealth of which is not in its rich endowment of natural resources, but in its many splendid men and women.
